task of the Lebanese exthree dominant trends. There is first the desire to retain full sovereignty and avoid submergence in the sea of Arabs all around, Secondly, and simultaneously, the Lebanese have sought to maintain whole-hearted cooperation with the surrounding Arab States. Last but not least, the Lebanes has always wanted to preserve her friendly relations with the West, with which she has atrans cultural bonds.

Twould be easy to say that the present regime in Beirut is fighting a losing hattle, that it will ultimately have to give way to the rising forces of pan-Arabiam both inside and outside. But this is only half true. The situation in the Arab world now is such that the fate of samail and apparently weak countries can have a decisive effect on the fortunes of the whole area, as event in Jordan last spring served to show. The emergence of two rival crystallisations of forces in the Arab world, with the consequent increase in rivalry and discord, may yet give another long lease of life to uncommitted countries, like the Lebanon, paradoxical though his may sound. Although, in the long run, the Irragis are not less intent on submerging the Lebanon than their Egyptian contenders, there is a sense in which both these camps have a stake in preserving the softus que there, at least for the time being. Ne 'Welcoms' in U.S.

In Paris and London, the note was welcomed with qualifications. But the word welcome was absent from the cool reaction issued quickly in Washington.

However, observers in London said that despite this difference in emphasis the West was in agreement that the Soviet note was not a full acceptance of the West's proposal of March 31 for diplomatic consultations in Moscow to prepare a summit conference.

Acceptance Urged Of Rapacki Plan

PRAGUE. Saturday (Reuter).

The Foreign Ministers of Czechoslovakia, Poland and East Germany, meeting here, today urged the West to accept the Polish plan for a demilitarised zone in Central Europe as a way of preventing a dangerous growth of tension in Europe.

The Acting Polish Foreign Minister, Mr. Nazzkowski, said the plan was an afternative to the recent moves to equip the West German army with atomic weapons. "We are ready to discuss details of the plan with the interested governments, but to this end it is necessary that these states agree to embark upon concrete discussions."

CAIRO, Saturday (Reuter).—
The Prime Minister of Ghana, Dr. Kwame Nkrumah, will visit Cairo this summer as guest of the United Arab newspaper "A-Sha'ab" said today.

The Algerian Liberation Front Bureau today nominated two of its leaders to go to Accra for lobbying their case during the conference.
The Bureau said it asked the conference secretariat for permission to attend as obsevers, but received no answer.

completed without any interference from the flyrians on Thursday afternoon. The job lasted three weeks, including the weeklong stoppage.

The canal is the last of the six dug in the southern Hula area to drain the subterranean aprings on the fringe of the new drained marshes. The new canal will also drain eff the fle of waters from Wadi Jebeleineh across the border. It will prevent the flooding of 1,500 dunams of land.

The work was executed by the J.N.F., which will now probably start ploughing the area and prepare it for the sowing of summer crops.

U.K. Frigate To Reinforce Aden

Reinforce Aden

NAIROBI, Saturday (Reuter).

— Some of the crew of the British naval frigate Loch Fada who where holidaying here were recalled quickly today to rejoin their ship at Mombasa when its departure was advanced 24 hours.

It is believed that the Loch Fada is destined for Aden, where reports of Communist arms being supplied to Yemen have followed disturbances on the Yemeni-Aden Protectorate border.

A spokesman for the Kenya Government said today that a battalion of the York and Lancaster Regiment, which has been ordered here from Britain, is to strengthen British forces in the East African and Middle East theatre.

In Aden, it was pointed out that reports of Soviet technicians helping to build a Yemeni Red Sea port at Rasel Salif have coincided with signs of a general build-up of Yemeni armed power by the Soviet bloc.

There have been many rumours in Aden of Russian activities in the Yemen, all unconfirmed but given wide eirculation. They include reports that about 30 T-34 Soviet tanks, up to 60 armoured cars and a substantial number of heavy guns have been shipped to the Yemen from Russia.

Responsible quarters in Aden say, however, that Rusahipped to the Yemen from Russia.

Responsible quarters in Aden say, however, that Russia's main object probably is to provide the Yemen with a port capable of taking fairly big ships and thus making her independent of Aden. At present bulk cargoes, which could include heavy military supplies, have to be discharged at Salif where ships must lie offshore. Salif is only about 7 kms. from Kamaran island, for which the Governor of Aden is responsible and where there is a British Resident.

The Cabinet meeting with President Rene Coty in the chair, followed reports that Frime Minister Gaillard had received a personal letter from President Eisenhower urging him to grant an "her lease on the life of the "obd," Offices" mission, which has been reported in an impasse. Informed sources said Mr. Eisenhower, writing to M. Gaillard as an "old friend of France," pointed out that the U.S. is a friend of Transia as well. This was interpreted here as a hint that if the French-Tunisian crisis wemt before the U.S. would not be able to side with France.
M. Gaillard was said to be facing a choice between a possible break with France; allies or an internal policy.
